Plain English explanation

The keyworking function in South East London is provided by a new service called South East London Education Care & Treatment (SELECT). A team of keyworkers provide personalised support to children and young people with a learning disability and/or autism who have been identified as being at risk of an inappropriate hospital admission or placement breakdown (this may include the family home as well as a residential placement). These 'at risk' children & young people are recorded on a database maintained by the local authority called a Dynamic Support Register which exists to co-ordinate support and monitor outcomes. Only children & young people who are on a local Dynamic Support Register are eligible for support from SELECT.

Keyworkers from the SELECT service are notified of eligible children and young people requiring support to avoid inappropriate admission (or facilitate discharge if admission has occurred) via referral. The referral includes sufficient information to instigate support including personal details about the child or young person (C/YP); family contact details; details of the lead professional (if not the referrer); a summary of expected outcomes and recent care plans. These documents provide sufficient information to enable SELECT Keyworkers to assess risk, understand hoped for outcomes and to understand the child or young person's recent clinical history prior to making contact safely with the C/YP and/or their family.

SELECT will be required to collect, hold and share personal and clinical information relating to service users to gauge the initial needs of the family and to begin to understand any risk factors that may impact upon the initial home visit by a keyworker.

A request for involvement by the SELECT team can only be made by a professional within the network of support for a C/YP using the SELECT Referral Form. The form requires the referrer to provide personal information about the C/YP including address, date of birth and information about the C/YP's health and/or current circumstances.

In order to develop a more detailed understanding of the C/YP, their family and their needs, further information is collected during an interview process in which a Key Worker encourages the C/YP and/or their family to describe the support they have received; the support they would wish to receive and their hopes and aspirations for the future with a view to enabling the keyworker to understand the needs from the family or the user's perspective and to understand their case history further (what services they have been involved with and when, for example).

At this initial home visit, and during subsequent meetings, SELECT keyworkers will generate, store and share basic case/visit notes to record the intervention and outcomes or detail planned or required interventions. The information created will be stored securely on dedicated folders which only the SELECT keyworkers will have access to. After the first appointment with a family and/or the C/YP, the designated keyworker will work with the family and/or the C/YP to coproduce a support plan based on the information provided by the family and the C/YP and accessed through existing care plans that have been shared. This support plan is shared with the family and/or the C/YP and the original referrer.

It is important to note that case notes or communications with families will be for service use only and will not be routinely shared.

	<sup>1</sup> There are several teams within each of these NHS providers that will be recipients of the shared data. These include CAMHS, Neurodevelopment Teams, Therapies (SLT, OT, for example) or in-patient settings (Assessment & Treatment Units, for example). The structure and name of these teams varies according to age, which borough the service is provided in and the differing structures of each provider.
	2 Local authorities are often structured differently with teams designated by age (i.e. Children's Services and Adult Services) or by category (i.e. Autism, Special Educational Needs or mental health). Recipients of the shared data will include (but not be exclusive to) those teams, services or directorates concerned with Children's Social Care, Adult Social Care, Education, Disability and Mental Health.
