Summary of main points:	Context of Joint Forward Plan The South East London (SEL) Integrated Care Board (ICB) is required by NHS England to publish a Joint Forward Plan by end of June 2023, as are all ICBs. The purpose of the plan is to set out our medium term objectives and plans, at both a borough level and from the perspective of our key care pathways and enablers, to ensure that we are developing a service offer to residents that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Meets the needs of our population. Demonstrates and makes tangible progress in addressing the core purpose of our wider integrated care system - improving outcomes in health and healthcare, tackling inequalities in outcomes, experience and access, enhancing productivity and value for money and helping the NHS support broader social and economic development. Delivers national Long Term Plan and wider priorities, all of which resonate from a SEL population health perspective. Meets the statutory requirements of our Integrated Care Board Our draft Joint Forward Plan has been developed bottom up – from our Local Care Partnerships, our care pathway programme and transformation boards and our enabler programmes, with work having taken place to ensure a read and link across these key building blocks, informed by public insight already gained across the system. The draft plan was published on the ICB website on 19 April 2023, marking the start of a period of wider engagement on the plan before it is finalised for the end of June. - Take account of implementation and outcomes over the previous year, including any learning to be applied to our future plans.
- Reflect any changes required due to new or emerging issues or requirements, be they related to population health, feedback from our communities and service users or service delivery issues and opportunities.

Engagement Plans

The draft Joint Forward Plan has been developed using existing insight from previous engagement events, and these insights are documented in the plan. We are committed to further broad engagement on our draft Joint Forward Plan and this has been factored into the timeline to delivering a final plan by end of June. It is important to recognise that some areas of the plan are guided by tight national requirements and national guidance, and the scope for local influence is therefore reduced. We are therefore focussing engagement questions around approaches to delivery and how we should measure success, rather than comment on the priorities themselves.

We have the following engagement events planned over the next few weeks:

- Two SEL level webinars on 19 and 23 May. The webinars will cover a general overview of the Joint Forward Plan and breakout groups will allow for more detailed discussion on four topics which have not been covered as part of the South East London ICS strategy development or where we have less insight – planned care, urgent and emergency care, cancer, frailty and end of life care. At the time of writing (10 May 2023) we have 124 and 38 people booked onto the webinar events respectively. We have produced a pre -reading pack on these four areas using slides from the full document which will be sent out a week before the meeting and which is also available on the let's talk page and which is attached to this agenda item.
- A project page with a short survey has been set up on the Let's talk online engagement platform at Developing our Joint Forward Plan in south east London | Let's Talk Health and Care South East London \(letstalkhealthandcareselondon.org\)
